Well. Who would ever have thought it? This is the sixth time that I have the pleasure of welcoming everyone to Golcar Lily Day.

After Golcar Lily Day last year we had an exhibition in Colne Valley Museum. Going through all the old programmes and the press coverage was so impressive. Just to see how many different things we have achieved and how many different people have been involved was hard to believe.

Looking at the first programme makes me think of how excited we were and how worried about the response we would get. But we had no need to be bothered: it was so well received and caused so much fun there was no doubt that this was the first of many celebrations of the township of Golcar. In the first programme I wrote, "During the past year tremendous energy has gone into Golcar Lily Day. It is my hope that as different groups have got together, people who hardly knew one another have made new friends and begun to find out a lot more about what is already happening in this lively village. The Lily Day celebrations are more than just one great day in Town End, they stretch far and wide through the village and back through the preceding year." Now I think we have got to know one another even better through working together and these new friendships are, in some cases, six years old and becoming stronger with time.

This time, looking for a theme was a bit more difficult. It's the Jubilee, but there will be a few Jubilee parties. It will be the Olympics shortly but there is already a great deal happening in schools and other sports and social groups. So we've gone in a completely different direction. It is the 200th anniversary of the Luddite riots. Selwyn Copley has a very fine vintage steam roller. Therefore combining the two thoughts we have decided to look at industry from Golcar, and the steam roller will be driven into the village carrying a lucky raffle winner, who will declare the day open.

As ever huge efforts have gone into raising funds to make this event possible and I am very grateful for all the support we have received. Golcar Lily Day really is an event born and bred and rooted in Golcar.

Another quote from the first programme, "When I think of Golcar, I think of food, drink and music. There will be music everywhere for everyone today, and there will be plenty of food too. From the Golcar Lily sausage to the Golcar Lily bread, there are tastes for all to enjoy. There is plenty of Golcar and there is plenty to do. Enjoy yourselves. We do." And I don't think that has changed either.

Hurricane fly past

Time: to be confirmed; see www.golcarlilyday.co.uk

The Hurricane fighter plane is most famous for its vital role in the Battle of Britain but it also took part in battles in many parts of the world in World War Two. In total, over 14,000 Hurricanes fought in the war.

The first prototype Hurricane flew in 1935. It had been based on the design of the Fury plane built by Hawker and was powered by a Rolls-Royce Merlin engine. On Lily Day, look out for a piece of history.

Pub Olympics

Local pubs are taking part in an Olympics-related challenge. Preliminary rounds will be in late April and early May; the grand final will take place on Lily Day at the beer tent.

See www.golcarlilyday.co.uk for details.

Meals on Wheels in Golcar

This new service provides a hot 2-course meal every Wednesday to 30 residents in the Golcar area. Recipients are people who are unable to prepare a hot meal themselves. The meals, prepared by the chefs at the Golcar Lily in Bolster Moor, are delivered by volunteers — no one makes a profit from the service.

Would you, or someone you know, like to receive a meal? If so, contact Sharon or Lynn. The team is also keen to hear from anyone who would like to help deliver the meals — whether you are available every Wednesday or just occasionally. If you want to know more, give them a call.

Historia Normannis

A 12th century re-enactment group

At the scout and community centre, all day

Focusing on the events between the reigns of Henry I and King John, the group brings history to life in a historically accurate, engaging and exciting way. This event will enable you to engage with history by seeing, feeling and hearing aspects of the lives and deaths of 12th century people — knights, freemen, craftsmen, ladies of the court and barons of the realm. Come along and see:

- massed combat
- knights displaying their valour
- displays of archery, woodwork and metalworking
- singing and music of the court of the time

Historia Normannis presents the workings of 12th century life, and offers a history lesson that you will never forget!

Colne Valley Art Society

You can see the society's annual exhibition at the Colne Valley Museum from Saturday 21 April to Tuesday 5 June. It's a great opportunity to see work from talented local artists. Most items are for sale; plus there's the usual bargain corner that's full of items (maximum price £15) to buy and take home immediately.

Golcar Textiles

Cloth has been woven from wool in the Colne Valley since the 1300s. Initially, farm dwellers made only the cloth they needed for their own use. Farming around here was tough and yielded only enough to feed the family — it couldn't provide a surplus that could be sold. But cloth could and from around 1500 the area's cloth trade began to develop — but still only as an adjunct to farming.

As cloth-making expanded and became profitable, the need grew for more-suitable premises and weavers' cottages were the solution. The typical cottage had 3 storeys, providing a loom chamber on the top floor and family living space below. A classic example is the Spring Rock row of cottages in Golcar, which now houses the Colne Valley Museum.

The weavers' cottages around Golcar were built between 1770 and 1850. The characteristic rows of south-facing, mullioned windows provided plenty of light for working and, as the cottages were often built into the hillside, there was direct access to both the loom chamber and the living space.

Cottage textiles declined in the late 1800s as the mechanical inventions introduced into Lancashire's cotton manufacturing soon became established in cloth-making in the Colne Valley. Mills were built throughout the valley, including in Golcar.

The village's 3 cloth-making mills — Victoria Mill, Albion Mill and Heath House Mill — were built around 1860 and were first used by firms created by Joseph Taylor, a Golcar weaver. John Pearson, another Golcar weaver, who had built the Spring Rock cottages, bought a share of one of the original firms at Victoria Mill and later formed Pearson Brothers. This firm prospered and in the early 1900s the mill had 9,000 spindles and 82 looms. The firm traded at Victoria Mill until 1972. At Heath House Mill, T W Thorpe Ltd traded for 99 years, closing down in 1996. When the firm started, it made nothing

Heath House Mill

Heath House Mill: an aerial view

Heath House Mill: now

Polypropylene fibres on the production line

but cap cloths — men bought a lot of caps in those days. Through the years it produced various products, including millions of scarves.

Golcar also had recycling mills that were processors of rags and textile waste. The most prominent were Town End Mill on Leymoor Road, Manor Mill on Manor Road, and Acre Mill on Knowl Road. These mills were operated by, respectively, Fred Singleton Ltd, F Drake & Son, and Albert Wade Ltd. The first 2 mills are now demolished and Acre Mill is The Weavers bar and restaurant.

Rag recycling began with tatters (rag and bone men) collecting old clothes from houses. They delivered them to rag merchants, who sorted them and supplied them to the processors, who ground them down and sold the resulting material (shoddy) to local mills where it would be used to make cloth.

In 1972, F Drake (Fibres) Ltd took over Victoria Mill to make polypropylene fibre for carpet manufacturers. Under managing director Jim Haigh, the firm expanded its production and twice won a Queen's Award for exports. The company is now called Drake Extrusion Ltd and as well as producing fibres for carpets, it makes fibres for other uses, including applications in the food and construction industries.

The raw material for the extrusion process is polypropylene pellets, a by-product of the oil industry. The pellets, which are delivered by tankers and stored in silos, are heated until molten and the liquid is then forced through plates containing small holes to create the fibres.

Today, Albion Mill has been converted into flats, Heath House Mill houses small businesses in units, and production lines run at Victoria Mill for 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Guided ginnel walk

Join Golcar's Environment group on this popular walk around the village's ginnels and further afield:

Time:	2.00
Meet:	St John's Church gates, Church Street
Distance:	approximately 3 kilometres. A shorter walk is also possible.
Duration:	approximately 1 hour 30 minutes

There are 3 fairly steep climbs but they are only short. Wear suitable footwear, and if required bring a stick or walking pole. Maps are available on Lily Day from the library and the Golcar Lily Day stall in the car park at Town End.

Beyond Golcar's ginnels, this walk takes you past a well-hidden but spectacular weaver's cottage and then along the canal towpath. Mid May is an ideal time to walk along the towpath as the trees look beautiful with their lush foliage. You might even see the electric-blue flash of a kingfisher as it darts past you.

Golcar Lily Day Environment group

This group continues to work throughout the year to improve the local environment by:

- litter picking, helped greatly by Golcar Scouts
- clearing the ginnels

The group reacts to any environment requests made by members of our community. For example, we are currently trying to get improvements made to the walls around Two Furrows playing field.

Sunday's events

Golcar Sing

Sunday 13 May, 2.45, playing fields at Golcar JI&N School
(In case of bad weather, the Sing will be in Providence Methodist Church.)

The original Golcar Sing started in 1905 at Golcar cricket field. It ran successfully until it finished in 1951 due to declining interest and the state of the platform. In 1969 there was a revival attempt but nothing came of it. Fortunately the recent revival in 2008 proved much more successful, and this year will mark the fifth new Golcar Sing.

The programme contains traditional hymns and 3 Choruses from Handel's Messiah, accompanied by Huddersfield Wind Band, which will be conducted by Adrian Baxter. Singers from local choirs, churches and community groups are welcome to join the choir for the event, which will be conducted by Malcolm Fairless. Please bring a copy of 'Messiah' if you intend to sing in the choir.

The organist will be George Marsden; Stewart

Culpan will comper the event. Martyn Crompton will present the Golcar Lily talk. In this annual talk, now a feature of the Sing, someone who has strong connections with Golcar shares his/her personal reflections about the village and its community.

We hope as many people as possible will come along and support this community event. Please bring your own seating if the Sing is outdoors.

Golcar Lily service

We regularly have special weekend events. Join us on Saturday 2 June when we're celebrating the Diamond Jubilee — past and present and cooking Royal dishes in our Victorian kitchen.

Realising the Dream project: the discovery of a well 30 feet below what will be the new entrance to the museum has meant we had to go back to the drawing board, literally, to re-think our plans, but work is progressing! It's been a bit like Musical Front Doors these past few months but we now have swapped over the front door and window to avoid visitors having to walk over the well, and also to strengthen the outer wall of a very old building.

We are now ready to tackle the inside and hope to create a smart and welcoming reception area, plus a shop, leading into a café-cum-gallery which we hope will be used by local art and craft groups and the local schools.

Open Saturdays, Sundays and Bank Holidays, 2 to 5

School visits in term time

Group/evening visits by arrangement
